Re: Jaasin Taylor vs. Ball Corporation

Dear Mr. Guevara:

Please accept the following report as it relates to Mr. Jaasin Taylor' slip and fall event which occurred on July 24, 2021. In preparing this report, I reviewed the following documents provided to me by your office:

Initial Pleadings which include: The Notice of Removal, (DOC 9) Scheduling Order,

The Plaintiff Production which includes: 03.07.22 P's Responses to Defendant's RFPs, 03.07.22 Plaintiff's Responses to Defendants Interrogatories, 7. Photos of Site (J. TAYLOR 000015-000020), Video of Site 1 (J. TAYLOR 000021), Video of Site 1 (J. TAYLOR 000021), Video of Site 2 (J. TAYLOR 000022), Video of Site 2 (J. TAYLOR 000022), Photos of Mr. Taylor's Shoes Worn on Day of The Incident (J. TAYLOR 000025)

Defendant's Production which includes: 2022 0419 Ball's Interrogatories, 2022 0419 Ball's Request for Production, Defendant's Initial Disclosures, Defendant 000001 – 000021, Defendant 000022 – 000320, 2020.03.11 Internal Ball Corp Email regarding leaking machine, 2021.05.19 Email from Ball Corp to All Star Mechanic regarding Machine, 2021.06.16 All Star Mechanical Proposal for Machine Hydraulic Hose Alteration, 2021.09.21 Kaman Quote to Re-Pipe, 2021.10.05 Ball Corp Expenditure Request to Fix Leaking Machine (Inherent Design Flaw), 2021.10.05 Ball Corp Expenditure Request to Fix Leaking Machine, Ball Corp Diagram, Ball Corp Emails regarding Incident, Ball Corp Employee Handbook, Ball Corp Employees on Day of Incident, Ball Corp Previous Accident, Ball Corp Texts After Incident, Contract between Ball Corp and Manpower Group, Manufacture Info for Leaking Machine, New Contractor Docs, and the Witness Statement by Jaime Pratt.

Background:

It is my understanding that the Plaintiff, Mr. Jaasin Taylor, was employed by the Man Power Staffing Company who sent him to the Ball Corporation Beverage Packaging and Recycling Plant in Conroe Texas to handle materials. On or about Saturday July 24, 2021, Mr. Taylor arrived at the Ball Corporation and found that one of the company's baler-compactors was broken and spilling hot oil onto the concrete walkway. The baler continued to leak hot oil for several hours until the Ball Corporations employees serviced the machine Saturday evening.

On the following day, Sunday July 25, 2021, Mr. Taylor returned to the Ball Corporations facility and found that the same machine was spilling hot oil on the floor. Mr. Taylor continued his work for Man Power at the Ball Corporation facility, which consisted of handling, moving and stacking crushed aluminum bricks to a pallet using a hydraulic lift. As Mr. Taylor began to operate the machines lift, he slipped on hot oil that was spilled on the floor which caused him to fall striking his body on a piece of machinery on the way down. Plaintiff landed on his back and laid in the fetal position on the hot oil for several minutes.

Nationally Recognized Industry Standards:

The American Society of Testing and Materials (ASTM) F-1637-13 entitled "Standard Practice for Safe Walking Surfaces" (enclosed) describes the standard of care by which walkways and stairs are to be maintained. Listed below are the sections of the ASTM F-1637-13 standard, which I believe are relevant in this case.

Section 5.1.3 requires that; "Walkway surfaces shall be slip resistant under expected environmental conditions and use. Painted walkways shall contain an abrasive additive, cross cut grooving, texturing or other appropriate means to render the surface slip resistant where wet conditions may be reasonably foreseeable"

The American National Standards Institute (ANSI) has a published standard A1264.2-2012 entitled "American National Standard for the Provision of Slip Resistance on Walking/Working Surfaces" which was in effect at the time of Mr. Taylor slip-and-fall event and emphasizes the importance of protecting workers from the hazards presented by improper housekeeping, supervision, and warnings.

Section 8. Housekeeping

Sub-section 8.1 General. A housekeeping program shall be implemented to maintain safe walking-working surfaces.

E8.1 A written housekeeping program is recommended to ensure consistency and quality. The program should describe materials, equipment, scheduling, methods, and training of those conducting housekeeping.

Section 8.4 Supervision. The housekeeping conditions shall be monitored and a person(s) shall be authorized to promptly initiate corrective action(s).

Sub-section 8.4.1 Monitoring of areas shall include;

- a. Inspecting all walking surfaces;
- b. Arranging for prompt notification of persons responsible for cleanup of affected conditions;
- c. Placing signage, barriers or personnel until clean up is complete.

Section 9. Warnings

Sub-section 9.1 General. A warning shall be provided when a slip/fall hazard has been identified until appropriate corrections can be made and the area barricaded.

Section 10. Inherently Slippery Environments

In inherently slippery environments, an effective combination of multiple controls shall be implemented.

Section 10.1 Barricades. Barricades shall be used to isolate processes in hazardous areas. They shall also be used to isolate slip hazards from pedestrian traffic.

Section 10.2 Containment. Where spills, leakage or other emissions are anticipated, provisions shall be made to contain the spillage away from the walkway.

Section 10.3 Authorized Entry. In certain inherently slippery areas, only employees who are properly trained and equipped shall be authorized to enter.

The Occupational Safety and Health Administration (OSHA) Code of Federal Regulations (CFR) 1910.22 “General Requirements” requires that:

(a.)(1) All places of employment, passageways, storerooms, and service rooms shall be kept clean and orderly and in a sanitary condition.

(a.)(2) The floor of every workroom shall be maintained in a clean and as so far as possible, a dry condition. When wet processes are used, drainage shall be maintained, and false floors, platforms, mats, or other dry standing places should be provided where practicable.”

Opinions:

Slips and falls are a leading cause of workplace injury in the manufacturing and processing industries and although concrete walking and working surfaces like that Mr. Taylor was working on are appropriate for that type of location, when oil or other lubricants are spilled on the concrete it no longer provides a slip resistant surface as required by the above-named codes and standards. In order for walking and working surfaces to maintain their slip resistant quality they must be properly maintained and free of contaminants. This is particularly true in manufacturing and processing plants which are frequently exposed to slippery lubricants and other contaminants.

When a lubricating oil or hydraulic fluid is spilled on the walkway the surfaces coefficient of friction level will significantly decrease and in-turn increase the risk of a slip and fall event. It is the industry standard to immediately correct any known hazard once it has been identified and to provide appropriate safeguards and warnings. Having reviewed the case materials it appears that the Defendant failed to exercise good judgment and simply disregarded the safety of their workers and contractors who were exposed to the slip hazard.

It is my opinion that the Defendant failed to maintain, warn, and remedy the dangerous condition in question which was the direct cause of Mr. Taylor’s slip and fall event and subsequent injuries. Furthermore, the Defendant knew or should have known of the above-named OSHA requirement and industry standards to which they were obligated to follow as to protect the health and safety of their employees from the unnecessary risk of a slip and fall event. It is my opinion that the Defendant failed to exercise a reasonable degree of care as to reduce or eliminate the dangerous condition of the oil coated walkway and had they done so, it is more likely than not that Mr. Taylor would not have slipped and fallen and injured himself.

Listed below is an overview of my opinions as it relates to the Defendants failures:

1. The condition of the walkway at the time of Mr. Taylor's fall constituted a dangerous condition and posed an unreasonable risk of harm.
2. The Defendant knew or reasonably should have known of the dangerous condition of the walkway prior to Mr. Taylor's slip and fall and should have placed absorbent pads on the walkway and posted warning signs as to alert workers to the impending slip hazard.
3. The Defendant failed to exercise reasonable care to reduce or eliminate the dangerous condition of the walkway.
4. Prior to Mr. Taylor's fall, The Defendant was consciously aware of the dangerous condition and had time to either: (a.) remedy the condition by way of stopping the hot oil leak, (b.) remove the accumulation of oil from the walkway, and (c.) restrict access of the area by way of a barricade.
5. The dangerous condition that was present on the walkway was the proximate cause of Mr. Taylor's slip-and-fall event and subsequent injuries.

In conclusion it is my opinion that the Defendant did not provide a reasonable degree of care as it relates to properly maintaining their equipment and by safeguarding their walkways as to protect their employees specifically Mr. Taylor, from the risk of injury. Had the Defendant exercised a reasonable level of care of their walkways, it is more likely than not that Mr. Taylor would not have slipped and fallen and subsequently injured himself.

Sadly Mr. Taylor slip and fall event and subsequent injuries were entirely and easily preventable had the Defendant simply complied with the industry standards detailed above which establish the means by which companies like that of the Defendant should provide their employees and contracted employees a safe walking surface. My opinions are based upon a reasonable degree of professional certainty which are derived from my education, professional training, and experience which I reserve the right to amend my opinions as new information may be presented to me in the future.

Russell J. Kendzior

Designation: F1637 – 13

An American National Standard

Standard Practice for Safe Walking Surfaces¹

This standard is issued under the fixed designation F1637; the number immediately following the designation indicates the year of original adoption or, in the case of revision, the year of last revision. A number in parentheses indicates the year of last reapproval. A superscript epsilon (ϵ) indicates an editorial change since the last revision or reapproval.

1. Scope

1.1 This practice covers design and construction guidelines and minimum maintenance criteria for new and existing buildings and structures. This practice is intended to provide reasonably safe walking surfaces for pedestrians wearing ordinary footwear. These guidelines may not be adequate for those with certain mobility impairments.

1.2 Conformance with this practice will not alleviate all hazards; however, conformance will reduce certain pedestrian risks.

1.3 The values stated in inch-pound units are to be regarded as standard. The values given in parentheses are mathematical conversions to SI units that are provided for information only and are not considered standard.

1.4 This standard does not purport to address all of the safety concerns, if any, associated with its use. It is the responsibility of the user of this standard to establish appropriate safety and health practices and determine the applicability of regulatory limitations prior to use.

3. Terminology

3.1 See Terminology F1646 for the following terms used in this practice:

- 3.1.1 Bollard,
- 3.1.2 Carpet,
- 3.1.3 Cross slope,
- 3.1.4 Element,
- 3.1.5 Fair,

- 3.1.6 Footwear,

- 3.1.8 Planar,
- 3.1.9 Ramp,
- 3.1.10 Sidewalk,
- 3.1.11 Slip resistance,
- 3.1.12 Slip resistant,
- 3.1.13 Walkway.
- 3.1.14 Walkway surface hardware, and

4. Significance and Use

4.1 This practice addresses elements along and in walkways including floors and walkway surfaces, sidewalks, short flight stairs, gratings, wheel stops, and speed bumps. Swimming pools, bath tubs, showers, natural walks, and unimproved paths are beyond the scope of this practice.

5. Walkway Surfaces

5.1 General:

5.1.1 Walkways shall be stable, planar, flush, and even to the extent possible. Where walkways cannot be made flush and even, they shall conform to the requirements of 5.2 and 5.3.

5.1.2 Walkway surfaces for pedestrians shall be capable of safely sustaining intended loads.

5.1.3 Walkway surfaces shall be slip resistant under expected environmental conditions and use. Painted walkways shall contain an abrasive additive, cross cut grooving, texturing or other appropriate means to render the surface slip resistant where wet conditions may be reasonably foreseeable.

5.1.4 Interior walkways that are not slip resistant when wet shall be maintained dry during periods of pedestrian use.

5.2 Walkway Changes in Level:

5.2.1 Adjoining walkway surfaces shall be made flush and fair, whenever possible and for new construction and existing facilities to the extent practicable.

5.2.2 Changes in levels up to ¼ in. (6 mm) may be vertical and without edge treatment. (See Fig. 1.)

5.2.3 Changes in levels between ¼ and ½ in. (6 and 12 mm) shall be beveled with a slope no greater than 1:2 (rise:run).

5.2.4 Changes in levels greater than ½ in. (12 mm) shall be transitioned by means of a ramp or stairway that complies with applicable building codes, regulations, standards, or ordinances, or all of these.

¹ This practice is under the jurisdiction of ASTM Committee F13 on Pedestrian/Walkway Safety and Footwear and is the direct responsibility of Subcommittee F13.50 on Walkway Surfaces.

F1637 - 13

FIG. 1 Changes in Levels up to a Maximum of ¼ in. (6 mm)

5.3 Carpet:

5.3.1 Carpet shall be maintained so as not to create pedestrian hazard. Carpet shall be firmly secured and seams tightly maintained. Carpet shall not have loose or frayed edges, unsecured seams, worn areas, holes, wrinkles or other hazards that may cause trip occurrence.

5.3.2 Carpet on floor surfaces shall be routinely inspected. Periodic restretching may become necessary. Periodic inspection is particularly important at step nosing edges.

5.3.3 Carpet and carpet trim (as measured when compressed) shall meet the transition requirements of 5.2.

5.3.4 Shag-type carpet shall not be used on stair treads. Carpeting should be firmly secured onto the tread and around the nosing.

5.4 Mats and Runners:

5.4.1 Mats, runners, or other means of ensuring that building entrances and interior walkways are kept dry shall be provided, as needed, during inclement weather. Replacement of mats or runners may be necessary when they become saturated.

5.4.2 Building entrances shall be provided with mats or runners, or other means to help remove foreign particles and other contaminants from the bottom of pedestrian footwear. Mats should be provided to minimize foreign particles, that may become dangerous to pedestrians particularly on hard smooth floors, from being tracked on floors.

5.4.3 Mats or runners should be provided at other wet or contaminated locations, particularly at known transitions from dry locations. Mats at building entrances also may be used to control the spread of precipitation onto floor surfaces, reducing the likelihood of the floors becoming slippery.

5.4.4 Mats shall be of sufficient design, area, and placement to control tracking of contaminants into buildings. Safe practice requires that mats be installed and maintained to avoid tracking water off the last mat onto floor surfaces.

5.4.5 Mats, runners, and area rugs shall be provided with safe transition from adjacent surfaces and shall be fixed in place or provided with slip resistant backing.

5.4.6 Mats, runners, and area rugs shall be maintained so as not to create pedestrian hazards. Mats, runners, and area rugs shall not have loose or frayed edges, worn areas, holes, wrinkles, or other hazards that may cause trip occurrences.

5.5 Illumination:

5.5.1 Minimum walkway illumination shall be governed by the requirements of local codes and ordinances or, in their absence, by the recommendations set forth by the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America (IES) (Application and Reference Volumes).

5.5.2 Illumination shall be designed to be glare free.

5.5.3 Illumination shall be designed to avoid casting of obscuring shadows on walkways, including shadows on stairs that may be cast by users.

5.5.4 Interior and exterior pedestrian use areas, including parking lots, shall be properly illuminated during periods when pedestrians may be present.

5.6 Headroom—A minimum headroom clearance of 6 ft 8 in. (2.03 m), measured from the walkway surface, shall be provided above all parts of the walkway. Where such clearance is not provided in existing structures, the low clearance portions of the walkway shall be safely padded, marked with safety contrast color coding and posted with appropriate warning signs.

5.7 Exterior Walkways:

5.7.1 Exterior walkways shall be maintained so as to provide safe walking conditions.

5.7.1.1 Exterior walkways shall be slip resistant.

5.7.1.2 Exterior walkway conditions that may be considered substandard and in need of repair include conditions in which the pavement is broken, depressed, raised, undermined, slippery, uneven, or cracked to the extent that pieces may be readily removed.

5.7.2 Exterior walkways shall be repaired or replaced where there is an abrupt variation in elevation between surfaces. Vertical displacements in exterior walkways shall be transitioned in accordance with 5.2.

5.7.3 Edges of sidewalk joints shall be rounded.

6. Walking Surface Hardware

6.1 Walking surface hardware within foreseeable pedestrian paths shall be maintained flush with the surrounding surfaces; variances between levels shall be transitioned in accordance with 5.2.

6.2 Walking surface hardware within foreseeable pedestrian paths shall be maintained slip resistant.

6.3 Walking surface hardware shall be installed and maintained so as to be stable under reasonable foreseeable loading.

7. Stairs

7.1 General:

7.1.1 Stairways with “distracting” forward or side views shall be avoided. A “distracting” view is one which can attract the stair user’s attention, (for example, advertisements, store displays), thus distracting the stair user.

7.1.2 Step nosings shall be readily discernible, slip resistant, and adequately demarcated. Random, pictorial, floral, or geometric designs are examples of design elements that can camouflage a step nosing.

7.1.3 Doors shall not open over stairs.

7.1.4 Structure (reserved).

7.2 Short Flight Stairs (Three or Fewer Risers):

7.2.1 Short flight stairs shall be avoided where possible.

7.2.2 In situations where a short flight stair or single step transition exists or cannot be avoided, obvious visual cues shall be provided to facilitate improved step identification. Handrails, delineated nosing edges, tactile cues, warning signs, contrast in surface colors, and accent lighting are examples of some appropriate warning cues.

F1637 – 13

8. Speed Bumps

- 8.1 Design to avoid the use of speed bumps.
- 8.2 All speed bumps which are in foreseeable pedestrian paths shall comply with 5.2 (walkway changes in level).
- 8.3 Existing speed bumps, that do not conform to 5.2, shall be clearly marked with safety color coding to contrast with surroundings. Painted speed bumps shall be slip resistant. Pedestrian CAUTION signs are recommended.

9. Wheel Stops

- 9.1 Parking lots should be designed to avoid the use of wheel stops.
- 9.2 Wheel stops shall not be placed in pedestrian walkways or foreseeable pedestrian paths.
- 9.3 Wheel stops shall be in contrast with their surroundings.
- 9.4 Wheel stops shall be no longer than 6 ft (1.83 m) and shall be placed in the center of parking stalls. The minimum width of pedestrian passage between wheel stops shall be 3 ft (0.91 m).
- 9.5 The top of wheel stops shall not exceed 6.5 in. (165 mm) in height above the parking lot surface.
- 9.6 Adequate illumination shall be maintained at wheel stops as governed by the requirements of local codes and ordinances or, in their absence, by the recommendations set forth by the Illuminating Engineering Society of North America (IES-Application and Reference Volumes).
- 9.7 Bollards, not less than 3 ft 6 in. (1.07 m) height, may be placed in the center of parking stalls as an alternative to wheel stops. Bollards should be appropriately marked to enhance visibility.

10. Gratings

- 10.1 Gratings used in public areas should be located outside of pedestrian walkways.
- 10.2 Gratings located in foreseeable pedestrian walkways shall not have openings wider than ½ in. (13 mm) in the direction of predominant travel.
- 10.2.1 Exemption—The requirements of 10.2 do not apply in areas where footwear worn is controlled (for example, industrial areas).
- 10.3 Gratings with elongated openings shall be placed with the long dimension perpendicular to the direction of predominant travel.
- 10.4 Gratings shall be maintained slip resistant.

11. Warnings

- 11.1 The use of visual cues such as warnings, accent lighting, handrails, contrast painting, and other cues to improve the safety of walkway transitions are recognized as effective controls in some applications. However, such cues or warnings do not necessarily negate the need for safe design and construction.
- 11.2 When relying on applications of color as a warning, provide colors and patterns that provide conspicuous markings for the conditions being delineated, their surroundings, and the environment in which they will be viewed by users. Bright yellow is a commonly used color for alerting users of the presence of certain walkway conditions. When properly applied and maintained, other colors can also provide effective warnings.

12. Keywords

- 12.1 carpet; floors; gratings; mats; runners; sidewalks; short flight stairs; slip resistance; speed bump; stairs; walkway; wheel stop

AMERICAN NATIONAL STANDARD A1264.2 – 2012

7.4 Installation. Mats shall be installed so that they do not create tripping hazards. Mats and runners that are not recessed shall have a beveled or graduated edge or other appropriate treatment to help reduce the possibility of tripping on the mat edge.

7.4.1 Layout. Mats and runners shall be laid out to avoid overlap or gaps between them to provide a continuous walkway path.

7.5 Inspection and Maintenance. Mats and runners shall be routinely inspected and adequately maintained to identify and correct conditions such as buckling, edge curling and other defects. Damaged mats shall be promptly replaced.

7.6 Storage and Care. Procedures shall be established for the placement, maintenance, inspection and storage of mats in accordance with manufacturer's instructions. In the absence of such instructions, mats and runners shall be stored in a way that allows them to lie flat when in use.

7.7 Cleaning and Trade-Out. To maintain effective soil pick-up and track-control, and slip resistance, mats shall receive scheduled cleanings or trade-out of appropriate frequency based on the conditions to which they are subject.

8. HOUSEKEEPING

8.1 General. A housekeeping program shall be implemented to maintain safe walking-working surfaces.

Larger mats tend to remain in place better than a smaller mat due to greater weight and larger dimensions.

E7.4 Vertical edges of mats and runners should not be greater than 1/4 inch. Abrupt vertical edges greater than 1/4 inch up to 1/2 inch should be beveled at a slope no greater than 1:2. Abrupt vertical changes greater than 1/2 inch should not be permitted.

E7.5 Routine inspections will quickly identify and help prioritize issues/problems related to adequate securement, contaminant saturation level, curling, buckling and rippling, displacement and other potentially hazardous conditions. Immediate remediation is recommended when a potentially hazardous condition is observed.

E7.6 Storage procedures should be in conformance with manufacturers specifications. Also see Section 8: Housekeeping.

Note: In the context of Section 7.6, flat means there is no buckling, rippling or curling of the mat edges when it is laid out.

E7.7 According to CRI's manual for school facilities, "Walk-off mats should be cleaned frequently. Once a walk-off mat becomes filled with soil, the soil will then transfer to the soles of shoes and spread throughout the facility."

E8.1 A written housekeeping program is recommended to ensure consistency and quality. The program should describe materials, equipment, scheduling, methods and training of those conducting housekeeping.

This document is copyrighted by the International Council on Building Related Applications (ICB) and is not to be reproduced or distributed in any other form.

AMERICAN NATIONAL STANDARD A1264.2 – 2012

8.2 Maintenance Procedures. Written procedures, if in place, shall specify cleaning and maintenance procedures including immediate response, routine operations, remedial measures and reporting requirements.

E8.2 Procedures should be reviewed regularly and updated as needed so that an effective program is maintained. Drains should be kept clear and free flowing. Certain spills involving hazardous chemicals may be subject to regulatory reporting.

Periodic slip resistance testing of floor surfaces can be of value in the following situations:

- If a treatment or coating has been applied to the floor surface which may deteriorate over time.
- To monitor for floor cleanliness.
- There is no available history of slips and falls at the facility.
- To evaluate prospective flooring materials prior to installation.

8.3 Training. Housekeeping staff, contractors and other persons with the responsibility of a given area shall be trained in:

- a. Inspection, maintenance and cleaning requirements;
- b. Inspection, maintenance and cleaning procedures;
- c. Safe handling and disposal of chemicals and/or solutions;
- d. Safe operations of maintenance and cleaning equipment;
- e. Emergency conditions and operations;
- f. Recordkeeping and reporting relating to housekeeping and maintenance.

E8.3 Under the Hazard Communication Act (HAZCOM) workers may be subject to the Hazard Communication Act (HAZCOM) if exposed to certain chemicals.

For more information about training, consult ANSI/ASSE Z490.1, Accepted Practices for Safety, Health and Environmental Training.

8.4 Supervision. The housekeeping conditions shall be monitored and a person(s) shall be authorized to promptly initiate corrective action(s).

E8.4 An effective program requires employees to identify and report potential hazards to appropriate supervision. Documentation of monitoring can assist in identifying hazards (e.g., areas where repeated spills occur), which will permit better planning and anticipation of such events.

8.4.1 Monitoring. Monitoring of areas shall include:

E8.4.1 See Section 9: Warnings.

AMERICAN NATIONAL STANDARD A1264.2 – 2012

- a. Inspecting all walking surfaces.
- b. Arranging for prompt notification of persons responsible for clean up of hazardous conditions.
- c. Placing signage, barriers or personnel until clean up is complete.

8.5 Use of Granular Absorbents. The use of granular absorbents where processes or the environment creates slip hazards shall be acceptable treatment in reducing slip hazards where other control methods are not feasible. The absorbent shall be swept up and replaced before the absorbent has been fully saturated.

9. WARNINGS/BARRICADES

9.1 General. A warning shall be provided when a slip or trip hazard has been identified until appropriate corrections can be made or the area barricaded.

9.1.1 Alternate Route. When a slip/fall hazard covers an entire walkway, making it difficult to safely route personnel around the hazard, barricades shall be used to limit access (see Section 10.1). If appropriate, assign a person(s) to detour pedestrians in conjunction with the appropriate use of warning signs until the barricade can be erected or the hazard removed.

9.2 Signage. The signage reference for warning signs used for slip/fall hazards shall be ANSI Z535.2, Standard for Environmental and Facilities Safety Signs.

E9.1 Slip/trip hazards should be eliminated by design and arrangement if possible. The next priority is to guard the hazard if possible, and the last priority is to warn of a hazard. The intent is to eliminate and/or reduce, as much as possible, the potential for injury.

E9.2 The ANSI Z535 standards provide for the design, application and use of signs and placards in creating a uniform visual alert system. They are available from the NEMA (The Association of Electrical Equipment and Medical Imaging Manufacturers), 1300 North 17th Street, Arlington, Virginia or at the website: <http://www.nema.org/>.

This is an ASSE-produced standard. It is copyright protected and may not be reproduced or distributed to any other party.

AMERICAN NATIONAL STANDARD A1264.2 – 2012

9.3 Symbols. Warning signs using symbols shall use ANSI Z535.3, Criteria for Safety Symbols.

9.4 Placement. Warning signs shall be placed at approaches to, or around, areas where slip/fall hazards are foreseeable. These devices shall surround or be placed around the perimeter of the hazardous area to clearly demarcate the location of the potential hazard.

9.4.1 Unmitigated Hazards. In cases where hazards cannot be mitigated, warning signs and barricades shall be used to reroute traffic.

E9.4.1 Warning signs may be ineffective for the control of slip and fall hazards in areas where routing pedestrian traffic around the hazard is difficult to accomplish, such as where the danger lies on a shorter path than the safe route. In such instances, barricading the area in conjunction with appropriate warning signs to reroute employee traffic to an entirely different route may be required.

Barricades and warning signs should be used in hazardous areas. See Section 10: Inherently Slippery Environments for details on the use of barricades.

9.4.2 Removal of Hazard. When the hazard has been eliminated or controlled, the sign and/or barricade shall be promptly removed.

E9.4.2 Leaving signage/barricades after hazardous conditions have been remediated can lead to complacency.

10. INHERENTLY SLIPPERY ENVIRONMENTS

In inherently slippery environments, an effective combination of multiple controls shall be implemented.

E10 Examples of inherently slippery environments include chemical processes, food processing and rendering and other operations likely to result in liquid contamination of walking/working surfaces. Training of persons to safely use such areas is highly recommended. The use of the procedures outlined in Section 8 are recommended as minimum training guidelines.

10.1 Barricades. Barricades shall be used to isolate processes in hazardous areas. They shall also be used to isolate slip hazards from pedestrian traffic.

AMERICAN NATIONAL STANDARD A1264.2 – 2012

10.2 Containment. Where spills, leakage or other emissions are anticipated, provisions shall be made to contain the spillage away from the walkway.

10.3 Authorized Entry. In certain inherently slippery areas, only employees who are properly trained and equipped shall be authorized to enter.

10.4 Signage Considerations. Signage for inherently slippery environments shall be in place in accordance with Sections 9.2, 9.3 and 9.4 of this standard.

11. SELECTION AND/OR TREATMENT

11.1 Safely Maintained. Walking surfaces for use in accordance with 2.3 shall be safely maintained.

11.2 Practical Considerations. Where it is not practical to replace flooring, etching, scoring, grooving, brushing, appliques, coatings and other such techniques shall be used to achieve acceptable slip resistance under foreseeable conditions.

E10.2 Examples of containment include proper drainage, scupper curbing, dikes, drip pans and operational enclosures. Some barricades may be methods of containment.

E10.3 Processes may have to be shut down for special cleanup operations. Equipment may include full personal protective equipment, lifelines, harnesses and/or special footwear. See Appendix A for slip-resistant footwear considerations.

E11 Reference to ASTM F802, Standard Guide for Selection of Certain Walkway Surfaces When Considering Footwear Traction. Consideration should be given towards replacement of the flooring with a different material having more pronounced surface asperities. Textured surface coatings are a viable selection alternative. The material selection should be determined based upon testing of the surface with an appropriate slip testing device.

E11.2 Surfacing applications and/or treatments are available that can impart increased slip resistance to problem surfaces. Some flooring surfaces can be enhanced by etching. Certain paint-on or trowel-on applications can enhance slip resistance. It is important to select one that will adhere tenaciously to the substrate. Cleanability and durability should be considered. Patch testing of prospective materials in the problem environment is recommended before proceeding with broad application. Carpeting is also an option worthy of consideration for control of slips.

- 1910 Subpart D
- Subpart Title:

Walking-Working Surfaces

- Standard Number:

1910.22

- Title:

General requirements.

1910.22(a)

Surface conditions. The employer must ensure:

1910.22(a)(1)

All places of employment, passageways, storerooms, service rooms, and walking-working surfaces are kept in a clean, orderly, and sanitary condition.

1910.22(a)(2)

The floor of each workroom is maintained in a clean and, to the extent feasible, in a dry condition. When wet processes are used, drainage must be maintained and, to the extent feasible, dry standing places, such as false floors, platforms, and mats must be provided.

1910.22(a)(3)

Walking-working surfaces are maintained free of hazards such as sharp or protruding objects, loose boards, corrosion, leaks, spills, snow, and ice.

1910.22(b)

Loads. The employer must ensure that each walking-working surface can support the maximum intended load for that surface.

1910.22(c)

Access and egress. The employer must provide, and ensure each employee uses, a safe means of access and egress to and from walking-working surfaces.

1910.22(d)

Inspection, maintenance, and repair. The employer must ensure:

1910.22(d)(1)

Walking-working surfaces are inspected, regularly and as necessary, and maintained in a safe condition;

1910.22(d)(2)

Hazardous conditions on walking-working surfaces are corrected or repaired before an employee uses the walking-working surface again. If the correction or repair cannot be made immediately, the hazard must be guarded to prevent employees from using the walking-working surface until the hazard is corrected or repaired; and

1910.22(d)(3)

When any correction or repair involves the structural integrity of the walking-working surface, a qualified person performs or supervises the correction or repair.
